

Excellent Opportunity to Practice Infectious Disease in Bangor, Maine (USA)

Northern Light Eastern Maine Medical Center seeks a board-certified/board-eligible infectious disease specialist to join a well-established, hospital-employed, 100% infectious disease practice, offering both inpatient consulting and outpatient clinic. ID specialists are supported by hospitalist service and intensivists coverage in ICU.

Infectious Disease Physicians at Northern Light Eastern Maine Medical Center enjoy:

- Robust compensation, benefits and, PTO packages
- Immigration legal support and advice
- Student Loan Reimbursement Program of up to 20K per year, with no max
- Relocation and Sign-On Bonus
- Flexible schedules and exceptional work/life balance
- Leadership and teaching opportunities, if desired

All candidates must be a member of the Royal College of Surgeons Canada and/or be United States board eligible/certified in Infectious Disease.

Completion of the USMLE's is not required but helpful.

Northern Light Eastern Maine Medical Center is a 411-bed, ACS-verified Level II trauma, and regional tertiary care center serving a patient population of 500,000 living in the northern 2/3 of the state.

Bangor is in the central Maine area and is roughly a 2-hour drive to the U.S. / Canadian border. Considered the regional hub for medicine, the arts, and commerce, it is an award-winning small city. Whether you enjoy dining, the arts, the great outdoors, history, architecture, shopping or sports, you are sure to find something to do and lots to love here. Bangor's central location allows easy access to everything Maine has to offer – scenic coastline and beaches, camping, hiking, canoeing, charming downtowns and shopping, theater and the arts, and so much more. Schools rank among New England's best and the University of Maine, with its cultural and sports amenities, is in neighboring Orono. Bangor International Airport offers direct and one-stop nationwide connections.

For confidential consideration, please contact:

Nick Huff, CPRP, CST

Physician Recruiter

Email: Nhuff@northernlight.org

Phone: 207.973.5358